Statement Regarding the Ability to Function in Emergency Situations

47 CFR § 54.313(a)(6) Form

481, Line 610

Cordova Wireless Communications, LLC (CWC) is a competitive local exchange carrier operating in the state of Alaska, and is an eligible telecommunications carrier (ETC) designated by the Regulatory Commission of Alaska (RCA). As such, CWC is subject to the regulatory authority of the RCA and operates under the relevant RCA rules (Alaska Administrative Code) and laws of the state of Alaska.

CWC is subject to RCA rules regarding the ability to remain functional in emergency situations by (1) maintaining at least eight hours of backup power to ensure functionality without local alternating current (AC) commercial power, (2) establishing the ability to reroute traffic around damaged facilities and to manage traffic spikes resulting from emergency situations, and (3) establishing procedures for employees to follow in an emergency to prevent or minimize interruption or impairment of telecommunications services.

CWC has generators capable of providing the required level of backup power, and they can be deployed as necessary to CWC's switching and remote sites. CWC's network is capable of rerouting traffic around damaged facilities, although this ability is not absolute and may be limited in certain circumstances. However, CWC follows all industry standard practices in ensuring its network remains functional during different types of emergency situations.

Statement Regarding Compliance with Tribal Engagement Rules
47 CFR § 54.313(a)(9)
Form 481, Line 920

Cordova Wireless Communications, LLC (CWC) is a competitive local exchange carrier operating in the state of Alaska, and is an eligible telecommunications carrier (ETC) designated by the Regulatory Commission of Alaska (RCA). As such, CWC is subject to the regulatory authority of the RCA and operates under the relevant RCA rules (Alaska Administrative Code) and laws of the state of Alaska.

By Federal law passed by the United States Congress decades ago all of Alaska has been deemed and recognized as Native Lands for decades. All of our members in our small service area reside on native Lands. CWC does not discriminate in any way when serving the community of Cordova and therefore treats all people equally and all customers and businesses the same regardless of title, creed, religion, affiliation or needs. Each person in Cordova has access to exactly the same services as every other person in Cordova and within our service area. Our marketing efforts ensure that all businesses and individuals are well aware of all of our services to everyone.

The Tribal areas served by CWC are: Cordova, Alaska.

In accordance with our current business practices, and those in effect prior to the adoption to the FCC's Tribal Engagement rules, CWC along with their holding company, Cordova Telephone Cooperative, Inc.(CTC) reached out to its Tribal villages on multiple occasions and engaged or attempted to engage with the applicable Alaska Native Village officials regarding the following topics:

- (1) Needs assessment and deployment planning with a focus on Alaska Native Village anchor institutions;
- (2) Feasibility and sustainability planning;
- (3) Marketing services in a culturally sensitive manner;
- (4) Right of way processes, land use permitting, facilities siting, environmental and cultural preservation review processes; and
- (5) Compliance with Tribal business and licensing requirements.

CWC partnered again with the Native Village of Eyak's Cheryl Eleshansky in effort to provide funding to victims of domestic violence and sexual assault since 2013. See attached email.

CWC has lease agreements with its holding company, Cordova Telephone Cooperative, Inc. (CTC). Therefore, CWC falls under CTC's agreements with the native village associations.

CTC/CWC also worked with the Native Village of Eyak to install anemometers at two of our remote sites and ultimately donated all space and power expenses and continues to today.

CWC has visited the offices of Alaska Native Village officials in efforts to assess service needs and market its services in a culturally sensitive manner. Our outreach efforts also include weekly advertising in their newly acquired newspaper, The Cordova Times. The contract for advertising is attached.

Good Afternoon,

As part of my job with the Native Village of Eyak's Women's Project, I have researched fundraising opportunities for our domestic violence and sexual assault program.

One of the fundraisers is "Recycling Cellphones". Through this project we would be collecting used cell phones and sending them off for recycling. Once they are received we would then get funds back.

We have been working collaboratively with Advocates, Law Enforcement and Medical personnel to revive the Cordova SART (Sexual Assault Response Team).

I am asking to place the container in your facility to collect used cell phones to help us in this endeavor. I would be the contact person and hope that you would be willing to help in this fundraiser.

If your agency is willing to help I can drop off the collection box at anytime, just either email or call me at your convenience.

Thank you in advance for your help and support in this project.

Thanks Casey, hope this all works out for you.

Lisa, I think we should develop an invoice for what Casey is doing so we can track this expense as a donation to the NVE for audit purposes.

thanks,

Thanks, Kelly.

Wind conditions at 27mile were formidable last week. I was able to install our sensor equipment on the Mt. Eyak Tower (see photos). If you have any comments would like more information on the installs, please let me know. Hopefully, I can suit up more appropriately and get some loggers installed on 27mile tower before our next big snow.

Also, everyone at CTC was extremely helpful and accommodating in your absence. Thanks again.
